H-Bomb's Great Power Revealed

U. S. Rejects Russian 'Trojan Horse'

Soviet Plan For 'Security' Turned Down

By Warren Rogers Jr.
Washington (AP)—A surprise Moscow proposal for a "security" system drew a flat rejection last night from the United States, which called it in effect a Trojan Horse trick to ruin the defenses of the Western world.

The Soviet Union offered to join the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) if the Western Powers would join a Russian-sponsored European security plan from which Germany would be barred.

Moscow dispatches said that as part of the same deal, the Soviet Union also called on the Western Powers to jettison their plan for setting up a European Defense Community (EDC) to which a rearmament Germany would contribute troops.

The Russian proposals were contained in a 10-page note handed to the ambassadors of the United States, Britain and France by Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov at Moscow.

A few hours later a State Department spokesman read newsman a statement, saying: "The present proposal of the Soviet Union inspires no confidence in the face of the continued iron grip of the Soviet Union on its captive peoples. It is a maneuver to gain admittance within the walls of the West to undermine its security."

In Washington there were many who regarded the Russian move as an attempt to deal a death blow to EDC, already bogged down in the French Parliament, and to trade on fears in many lands as a result of the growing potency of atomic and hydrogen weapons.

The United States reply, which Secretary of State Dulles helped to draft, labeled the Russian proposal as an effort by Molotov to retrieve "diplomatic failure" at the Berlin Big Four foreign ministers meeting.

The division of opinion in France over EDC was highlighted last night as the French Cabinet, in extraordinary session, reprimanded Marshall Alphonse Juin and stripped him of two high posts for his criticism of the EDC plan for a united European army.

World-Shaking 'News Events' Loom Across Horizon Today

Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov promised today that there would be no more Red aggression. Air force scientists landed on the moon and promptly issued a dispatch saying that the Man in the Moon really does exist after all.

President Eisenhower said he was giving up golf because he had read in the Reader's Digest that too much sun wasn't good for golf.

Barbara Hutton and Porfirio Rubirosa signed an agreement that neither would remarry until the age of 95.

Sen. Joseph McCarthy called all Democrats patriots and said that he was giving up his Senate

Firm To Start Mining Uranium In Few Months

Philadelphia (AP)—Robert V. White, president of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Co., said last night the company plans to begin mining uranium ore in a pocket near Mauch Chunk in about two or three months. He said, however, that it will be a "small-scale" operation, involving about 200-300 tons of uranium-bearing ore. The operation is being made under an arrangement with the Atomic Energy Commission to determine if it would be commercially feasible to undertake larger mining operations, White said.

Craig McKay Hurt; Airman Friend Killed

Newark, O. (AP)—Craig A. McKay, 24, East Stroudsburg, was injured and a traveling companion killed when their car crashed into the rear of a semi-trailer on U. S. Route 40, three miles east of nearby Jackson town last night.

McKay, an airman stationed at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, near Dayton, was admitted to Newark City Hospital following the accident. The extent of the Pennsylvania resident's injuries were unknown at a late hour last night.

Killed in the crash was Walter R. Spende, 19, driver of the car and a resident of Hancock, Md.

The truck driver was uninjured. State Highway Patrol said that the two airmen were apparently returning to Wright-Patterson after a visit to their respective homes.

Hughes Buys RKO For $23 Million

Hollywood (AP)—Multimillionaire Howard Hughes wrote a personal check for $23,489,478 yesterday to become the sole owner of RKO pictures.

The actual transfer of the stock, one of the largest single deals in history of American finance, took place at Wilmington, Del., between Hughes' representatives and officers of the movie corporation.

It made Hughes the first individual ever to become sole owner of a major motion picture producing company.

There was snow in the Pocono Mountains, including the Stroudsburgs, throughout the night last night.

And that's the only part of this story that is NOT an APRIL FOOL, everybody!

Ten Pupils Perish In School Blast

Checktown, N.Y. (AP)—Fire of explosive force ripped through the frame annex of the Cleveland Hill elementary school yesterday, burning out the lives of 10 sixth grade pupils.

Nineteen pupils and three teachers were burned or injured, some seriously. Hundreds of other youngsters, ranging from kindergarten tots to high school seniors, escaped injury although they were attending classes in new brick buildings only yards away.

The bodies of the victims were found pressed helplessly against what was left of the window wall of the room in which they had been attending a music class. Scattered around them were smashed phonograph records and scraps of charred sheet music.

School officials released the following list of names, reporting them only as "unaccounted for," since the bodies had not been specifically identified:

John Mendofik and Blaine Post, each 10, and Bruce Brand, Vern Bagley, Marlene Du Pont, Michael House, Elizabeth Lies, Reba Smith, Patricia Steger and Barbara Watkins, each 11.

The one-story building about 100 feet long, was completely wrecked. Nothing was left standing but rows of blackened studs and a chimney. The huge, yellow brick buildings of Cleveland Hill High School and Cleveland Hill Elementary, connected with the burned-out annex by a long, enclosed walkway, were not seriously damaged.

The fire started just before classes were to be dismissed for the lunch hour. Nearby residents said they heard a soft, booming sound. "One high school student called it a 'hood-like puff.'"

Flames burst from the small-paneled windows and quickly enveloped the structure. The cause was not determined, but firemen said it might have started in a furnace or boiler in the building. The Board of Education of this rapidly expanding Buffalo suburban community promised a prompt investigation and report.

States Given Broad Powers In Labor Disputes In Bill Approved By Senate Group

Washington (AP)—The Senate Labor Committee yesterday approved, along straight party lines, a 12-point Taft-Hartley revision program which would give the states broad new powers to deal with labor disputes "emergencies."

Voted out of committee over violent protests of committee Democrats, who charged the Republicans with "strawman" tactics, the measure incorporates most of President Eisenhower's Taft-Hartley recommendations sent to Congress last Jan. 11.

The bill marks the first time since 1949 that the Senate Committee has reported out a bill changing the controversial 1947 law. The 1949 amendments were never enacted.

Major points of controversy in the bill are two new sections which would appear to give the states extensive powers to deal with labor disputes, both those involving emergencies and those dealing with unfair labor practices and representation elections.

Language adopted by the committee only yesterday, on a 7-6 party-line vote, spells out the right of states to pass and enforce laws to handle emergencies which "if permitted to occur, or continue, will constitute a clear and present danger to the health or safety of the people of the state."

The Supreme Court has ruled state laws unconstitutional which go beyond provisions in the Taft-Hartley law. States may not legislate only in the field of compulsory unionism.

The new section would apply to all "emergencies" except those which the federal government is handling under the Taft-Hartley national emergency strike action, under which 80-day no-strike court orders may be obtained.

The other new section dealing with states rights would give the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) discretion to "decline to assert jurisdiction over any labor dispute where . . . the effect on commerce is not sufficiently substantial to warrant the exercise of its jurisdiction." If the board declined to assert its jurisdiction, state agencies could take the dispute over.

Charles Weissman, chairman of the commission's "Economic Task Force," wrote "our commission feels that the creation of these new jobs at Tobyhanna will, in a measure, assist our area of chronic labor surplus."

Strauss Says Bomb Could Destroy City

By Elton C. Fay
Washington (AP)—Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, said yesterday this nation now can make hydrogen bombs so stupendously powerful that one can "destroy" the biggest city.

The two new hydrogen weapons tests have added an "enormous potential to American military strength," he revealed.

Strauss also touched indirectly on the current wave of atomic fitters, chiefly abroad, in which fears have been expressed that a "run-away" H-bomb might trigger a chain reaction that would result in an end-of-the-world kind.

Asked if it is possible that a hydrogen explosion might get out of control, Strauss replied: "I am informed by the scientists that that is impossible."

Appearing at a White House news conference with President Eisenhower, the AEC chief did two things:

One—Gave an official estimate of the destructive force of the new thermonuclear bomb. He said it is possible to "destroy" "take out," even the vast metropolitan area of New York. Later he said he meant "put a city out of commission, not level it." Thus he used several descriptive phrases, leaving his listeners a choice.

Two—Read a formal statement, the object of which appeared to be to allay fears at home and abroad about the two H-bomb tests conducted this month. Reaction is mounting in several nations, including Japan and England. A full-scale debate in Britain's Parliament on the subject of hydrogen bombs is scheduled.

Strauss told newsmen both the March 1 and March 26 hydrogen "shots" were successful; that no test is made without a definite purpose of improving military strength and readiness and that "there are no idle or wanton tests."

Of the March 1 blast, which flung fission ashes far outside the then established safety zone around the Marshall Islands proving grounds in the Pacific, Strauss insisted that reports of this explosion going out of control were exaggerated and mistaken.

A Federal District Court jury returned the verdict late yesterday against the former St. Louis policeman after deliberating three and a half hours.

Dolan's attorney said he would file a motion for a new trial. Judge Albert A. Ridge deferred sentencing and set April 15 as the deadline for filing the motion. Dolan is free on $7,500 bond.

Area Commission Attacks Protest

Wilkes-Barre (AP)—The Northeast Pennsylvania Industrial Development Commission yesterday asked Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson to "disregard certain reaction of employees of the Baltimore Depot of the U. S. Army Signal Corps" against the transfer of temporary operations from Baltimore to the new 40-million-dollar signal depot at Tobyhanna.

The commission's "Economic Task Force," wrote "our commission feels that the creation of these new jobs at Tobyhanna will, in a measure, assist our area of chronic labor surplus."

Tax Bill Signed; Business Expects Increase In Sales

The first general excise tax cut in 30 years goes into effect today—on April Fool's Day.

President Eisenhower signed the bill into law yesterday with a statement that he felt the cuts would provide an impetus to buying.

Monroe County merchants interviewed yesterday were inclined to agree with the President that the cuts would be "very stimulating" to business.

In most cases, merchants felt, the cuts will be passed on to the customers. Covered in the cuts: a wide range of goods from refrigerators to fountain pens.

The House approved the excise cuts 391-1 on Tuesday after conflicting versions were straightened out. And the Senate accepted the compromise 72-8 despite reports the administration wasn't too happy about the reduction and loss of so much revenue at one time.

But the consumer is expected to profit greatly, and the impetus to business is expected to create broader smiles from the merchants in all corners of the nation.

There were some legislators who weren't too happy about the drop, and they were emphatic in the statements earlier this week.

Like Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) who said the tax-cut is sending the federal deficit "on the road to financial suicide." The administration forecast a deficit of $2,900,000,000 for the fiscal year beginning July 1 and with the latest excise cut expects the deficit to drop another billion dollars.

Some of the comments from the nation's largest producers of commodities affected by the tax reduction still are applauding the move as "just what the doctor ordered."

There is also comment that the reduction is more psychological than material and that, momentarily, the announcement will tend to create a good-will feeling among customers.

Several problems already are confronting the manufacturer, who in instances of appliance sales already has collected the tax from the retailer and now must go to Uncle Sam for the return, and pass the cut on to his retailer.

Another problem expected to be encountered concerns the man who is paying for an appliance or other article on the installment plan after signing a contract before today. Adjustments will be made for such customers and those who paid in advance on the "lay-away" plan.

In dollars and cents the relief could range from $50 or more on a fur coat for mother to 10 cents on Junior's ticket to the movie. Dad gets a chance to join the act this time too. He'll save a dime on a $1 bottle of after-shaving lotion and his $10 fishing outfit will now cost him $10.50 instead of the $11 he paid yesterday.

Lenten Meditation

St. Mark 14:28 "But after that I am risen, I will go before you into Galilee."

The power of the resurrected Christ is ever present to go before us.

The tragic death of the Apostle's Friend and Companion, for a moment, seemed to shatter their dreams. He who had spoken mightily and powerfully concerning the Living God had gone the way of all flesh.

What a shock when the news reached them of His resurrection; later to touch Him, hear Him speak. New men were born, disillusionment gave way to faith, by the power of the resurrected Christ.

The power of the Christian Church from the beginning to the present hour is rooted deeply in the belief and power of this living Christ. It is no "idle thing" to attend the Church. It is belief in this Christ; it is power for the road of life.

"But after that I am risen, I shall go before you into Galilee." Not only Galilee but everywhere—before us in times of adversity, sorrow, and doubt; He will be with us in our joy, fellowship together as Christians, in every aspect of life.

The power of the resurrection is with the Church, with the individual a power to go before making the way bright.

House Okays $5.5 Billion Money Bill

Washington (AP)—Beating down efforts to raise the total, the House passed and sent to the Senate yesterday a bill carrying $5,566,118,765 to finance various independent government agencies during the year starting July 1.

The figure, the exact amount recommended by its appropriations committee, is $363,604,837, or 6.2 per cent below the amount President Eisenhower has asked for the agencies.

The greatest single allotment went to the Veterans Administration. That agency was voted $3,779,432,800, or more than two-thirds of the bill's total.

The Atomic Energy Commission's share was $1,189,960,700, mainly for its weapons program. This is $132,179,700 more than the AEC was given for the current year but $152,039,300 less than the President requested.

Ike Cautions Free Nations Of Red Threat

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower declared yesterday that the free nations should be prepared to meet any kind of Communist attack against southeast Asia because of that area's great value to the free world.

He did not completely rule out the possibility of using some American forces under a plan of United action.

In the light of the President's comments at a news conference yesterday and Secretary of State Dulles' heavy emphasis on the vital importance of southeast Asia in a speech Monday night, the impression is growing here that the United States will eventually become more deeply involved in the Indochina war than it now is.

Discussion over moves that might be taken to assist the native Indochinese and French forces to stand off the Reds spread to Congress yesterday.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) said the United States should get the forces of Pacific free nations into the fight if they are needed.

State Asks Bridge Bids

Snyder'sville—The bridge which collapsed under a tractor-trailer near here last summer may be restored this summer.

Since the bridge fell into McMichael's Creek under the truck's weight, the structure has lain where it dropped. The stretch of road between Snyder'sville and the County Home has been blocked.

Yesterday the State Highway Department fixed April 15 to receive bids for construction of a plate girder bridge with the bituminous surfacing of 53 of a mile of road.

Slashes Butter Price

Philadelphia (AP)—Food Fair Stores, Inc., announced yesterday it has reduced butter prices in its 150 markets in a five-state area up to 10 cents, effective immediately.

Lehigh Dean To Address Conference

Highlight of the third annual science conference at State Teachers College, Friday, April 2, is an address by Dr. Harvey Neville, dean of the Graduate School at Lehigh University.

Dr. Neville will speak at 9:10 a.m. in the recreation room of Shawnee Hall. His subject is "What the High School Science Teacher Should Do for His Students." His talk will be followed by a discussion in which questions will be put by the teachers attending the conference.

Following Dr. Neville's speech, Mrs. Pauline Peterson, director of elementary education at the college will develop the same topic in its relation to the elementary teacher.

Events following the conference luncheon will have a visual appeal. The visiting teachers will be shown an exhibit of science work done by the junior and senior high school students in this area and collected for display on the college campus.

The display is a competitive one, and at the end of the presentation there will be a formal conference of awards for the best student work. Thomas Knepp, head of the Department of Science at Stroudsburg High School, will make the awards at 2:45 p.m.

At 2 p.m. a science show will be presented by Edward W. Halterman, lighting consultant for the Pennsylvania Power and Light Co.

The science conference is an annual event sponsored by the college to give the teachers in the area an opportunity to meet, talk over their problems, and listen to new teaching methods proposed. It is part of a larger college program, which sets up annual conferences sponsored by each of the college departments.

Eileen Haubert

Daughter Of Theater Owner Making Name For Herself As Actress On Broadway

By Robert J. Staph

Milford—An interest in the theater which began when she was a curly-haired tot of six, plus three years of intensive study in her chosen profession, may soon blossom into a career for a 21-year-old Milford actress.

Attracting considerable attention of those along the Broadway beat who maintain a constant vigil for the "new face" is Eileen Haubert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haubert, 403 Fourth St., who has caught the eye of, among others, Earl Wilson, nationally syndicated columnist and a man reputed to know talent when he sees it.

Wilson has alerted Hollywood and the Broadway stage to watch the progress of the pert Pike County blonde, whom he compares with actress Marie Wilson. "To back up his contention, the columnist offers the comment of Miss Haubert's teacher, Claudia Franck, who names the Milford girl as among the most promising of her many students, past and present. Wilson puts a lot of faith in Miss Franck's judgment, calling her "one of our ace drama coaches."

"Bill" parts on television and work as a "stand-in" at the New York studios of Metro-Goldwyn-Meyer have come Miss Haubert's way as she continues to study dramatics, singing, and dancing. It's a small beginning but it appears that the door to bigger and better things is opening. Her recent admission to Screen Actors Guild, the movie industry's counterpart of Actors Equity, is evidence of this.

Born in Newfoundland, Miss Haubert was brought up in a theatrical environment. Her father, owner-operator of the Haubert Theater in Newfoundland and the Milford Theater here, pioneered the "live" theater in the Pocono Mountains area and it was on the stage of the former that she first appeared before the footlights at the age of six.

Her early training, although quite informal, was basically sound. In the "stock" companies that played her father's theater were the "has-beens" as well as the "to-be's" of the theatrical world. The observation of their methods and techniques built a solid foundation for a career in the lively arts.

Passing in review in those early days were Mae Desmond, a name of some import in the legitimate theater years ago and still an active figure in theatrical circles in and around Philadelphia; Clifford Odets, who later made his mark as a playwright; Nat Burns, a trouper of the "old school" whose name may still be found in the cast of the leading "road shows" touring the United States; Ethel Barrymore, Colt, of America's "Royal Family" of the theater.

Then there was a Scranton girl who worked briefly with Miss Desmond's company, now known to the movie-going public as Lizabeth Scott; Cliff Hall, today a leading television performer who rose to the top as straight man for Jack Pearl's "Baron Munchausen" and more recently, Leonard Valente, director of television's "Marge and Jeff" and "The Mask".

Some of the greasepaint must have rubbed off in her associations with the thespians of this forerunner of what is now known as "summer theater" because she continued her interest in the stage as she attended Milford High School. An honor student, she was active in the school's dramatic club and graduated as valedictorian of her class.

Miss Haubert's scholastic record came to the attention of Syracuse University and that institution offered a scholarship. She turned it down, however, and a year later was off to New York to begin formal training in acting.

During the past three summers she has returned home to continue in her father's summer theaters, appearing in a new and usually different role each week, training which should stand her in good stead when that "big break", for which all aspiring artists wait, finally arrives.

Allied Youth To Sponsor Show, Dance

Barrett High School's Allied Youth organization will sponsor a talent show and square dance Friday night in the school auditorium.

On hand to provide the talent will be 15 acts recruited from the student body. These will include four acrobatic teams, three vocalists, three pianists, five novelty acts and a demonstration of Indian dancing by a war group from the local YMCA.

During the intermission between the talent show and the square dance judges will decide which contestants should receive the three major five dollar prizes—one for the top entry in the group, class and individual classes.

While the judges are mulling over their decision, there will be a "community sing" led by John Linder and Earl Rose Jr., assisted by several other Allied Youth members.

A "piewalk" will be the highlight of the square dance which follows the talent program.

Serving on committees for the entertainment are the following:

Program — Sylvia Thomas, Yvonne Noel, Catherine Seese, Nancy Heydt, Nancy Huguennin, Stella Mazurik, Gail Wilkinson.

The Surplus Problem

As of now, the Government owns 1,320,000,000 pounds of dairy products — 550 million pounds of dried milk, 420 million pounds of cheese, 350 million pounds of butter. All bought under the Government's depression-born program to keep the prices high.

If each American were consuming the same amount of dairy products now as he did in 1945, this mountainous store would not be in existence. But each American is consuming a lot less.

This is the basis for the campaign starting this week, which Agriculture Secretary Benson announced Monday, to "improve the dairy situation." It's a problem of over-production and under-consumption.

Effective today, the Government price-prop under butter will drop from 90 to 75 per cent of parity. That is expected to reduce the pound price of butter eight cents or more.

At the same time, the Agriculture Department will open a two-way push to encourage more consumption and to persuade dairymen to cull low-producing cattle, as a means of cutting production.

Mr. Benson also is working on a program for disposing of the huge surpluses now in Government storage—and for doing it in such a way as to avoid knocking the whole industry off its rockers. This will involve, among other things, a vigorous sales drive to sell American dairy products overseas.

The problem is overly fraught with angles. Tackling one rouses another.

Price is a dominant factor in consumption. (Americans are eating half as much butter, per capita, as they did 15 years ago.) Prices are pegged not only by Government supports for dairy products but by Government supports for other farm products; corn, for instance. Over-production of dairy products has been stimulated, in part, by relatively low beef prices.

Primarily, then, the Benson campaign to expand dairy markets is based on price inducements. But how far price adjustments will have to go, and how quickly they will produce results, are matters beyond the limits of confident forecasting.

The most that can be reported is that Secretary Benson is tugging at the problem, without much constructive help from the professional "farm" politicians.

How To Do It

Merchants in Morristown, Tenn., (population 13,000) bought jointly a piece of land just off their main street to provide a parking area for their customers. They thus provided space for 174 cars.

"We believe the way to solve the parking problem is through the work and support of home-town businessmen, and not through government subsidy and ownership," explains Chairman Howard George of the merchants committee.

This is a valuable object lesson for the hundreds of other cities—most of them much larger than Morristown—in which downtown businessmen continue to argue about the parking situation while their customers continue looking for places to park.

The Once Over

Audrey Did It The Hard Way

The significant thing about the recent crowning of Audrey Hepburn by Hollywood as the movie actress of the day is that she made it without a swimmer or a swimmer.

As some movie wag observed: "This can kill the boom in pictures." Audrey's success becomes more sensational the more you think about it. Fancy it! She is the queen of moviemod and has never met Ali Khan or had a phone call from Porfirio Rubirosa!

But that isn't all. Here she is at the top without a single divorce, separation, or scandal in her background. She made it without once having been reported engaged to an international playboy, seen in Las Vegas, or tied into a Monte Carlo romance. And, on top of all this, Miss Hepburn's shape has never been widely press-analyzed, there has been no conspiracy among public-relations men to make her torso topic number one in the motion-picture columns, she scorns cheesecake, she lacks the type of facial beauty that goes on garage calendars, all Audrey, poor kid, has a great talent, flaming youth, intense ambition, a keen intellect and good luck.

We saw her on her first appearance in America, to which she came about two years ago after a harrowing childhood in Holland under the Nazi terror. When she came onto the stage at the Shubert in New Haven, Conn., in a little play called "Gigi," she was unknown. She was pointed out to us as she walked through the dark alley between the Taft and the theater to the dismal stage entrance, and she seemed a plain, unattractive frightened slip of a kid. You could have had 1,000 to 1 against any bet that this frail babe, throwing off no glamour in her street clothes, was headed anywhere in particular or that within a couple of years she would be starring in a Broadway hit and getting the news that Hollywood had invited her to come and sit on top of the movie world. It still doesn't quite believe it. It makes Cinderella seem a run-of-the-mill benefactor of fairy godmothers and magic wands. Cinderella had merely to brush off a couple of stepsisters. Audrey had to fight her way through the Nazi armies, dancing lessons, New Haven hotel accommodations, the script of "Audrey" and the traffic jam caused by all the awards to people connected with "From Here to Eternity," before she made it.

Here is a truly great little actress, far above most Hollywooders. As the princess in "Roman Holiday" she was exquisite. In "Audrey" the Broadway play about nymphs and knights, she also shows the magic touch... a sort of Peter Pan with dorsal fins... an early Maude Adams with bangs. Audrey, by the way, does her hair like Mamie Eisenhower, so we think her Hollywood coronation a sort of victory for the Eisenhower Administration. She has eyes like Eddie Cantor. Her body is "farthest north" from Marilyn Monroe. Up to last Friday she could have stood at Broadway and Forty-second Street under a spotlight without being recognized or asked for an autograph. But from here in it's all velvet. "Audrey" has aquarium limitations. Now you're in the big swim. May all your water sprites be marble swimming pool companions!

The Yale Center for Alcohol Studies is looking into the cause, effect and cure with respect to hangovers... We thought everybody knew the cause up there in New Haven, the victories over Harvard and the terrible ordeal of getting out of the parking spaces after a bowl game... The cure has always been news that Princeton lacked any forward-pass material... Bughouse fables: The TV program went off without anybody singing "Paris in the Spring"... Nothing has alarmed all Washington so much as the possibility that its detectors might get a footing there... "From Here to Eternity" topped most of the Hollywood "Oscars," and it was a gripping picture splendidly done, but we still think it did the American Army more harm than would be stood for ordinarily, and that it painted an extra sordid picture of what the kids are to expect.

DROUTH in the LAND of PROMISE

Robert S. Allen Reports

51 Of 149 Anti-Trust Suits Have Been Ended

Washington — Members of the powerful Senate Appropriations Committee are buzzing about the unexpected close-up view they got of the Justice Department's policy on enforcing of the anti-monopoly laws.

The remarkably frank presentation occurred at a meeting with Assistant Attorney General Stanley Barnes, head of the Anti-Trust Division.

His significant comments may have a lot of political reverberations.

Democrats and others have been sharply critical of the Administration's anti-monopoly record. It is known the opposition will try to make this an issue in the coming congressional campaign. Republican leaders are well aware of that.

Indicative of this is the fact that Senator Everett Dirksen, Ill., chairman of the Republican Campaign Committee, took a leading part in this backstage discussion. This adds to the importance of what Barnes disclosed.

Highlights of what the former Los Angeles judge told the senators at this closed-door session are:

Of 149 anti-trust suits pending when he took office last year, 51 have been dropped either by outright dismissal or by out-of-court consent decrees.

Eighty per cent of other cases can be terminated in a similar manner.

In the same period, 24 new anti-monopoly actions have been instituted.

The Justice Department has adopted a new procedure in enforcing the anti-trust laws. Under this new practice, every effort is made to avoid court trials, even to the extent of showing defendants advance copies of the government's charges.

However, in some instances this policy has not worked out too well, due to the lawyer's taking advantage of the Justice Department's cooperative attitude to stall for time.

What was said — Judge Barnes' forthright statements are recorded in a stenographic report. The chances are strong it will be the source of much political oratory. Already both sides are scanning it closely for electioneering purposes.

Following are the high points of this unpublished transcript:

"Dirksen: In your own way, sketch the details of how vigorous and determined you have enforced the anti-trust laws."

"Barnes: If there has been any special emphasis in the past year, it has been on trying to clear up the backlog of old cases."

"Dirksen: Tell us what you have done with those cases."

"Barnes: There were 149 anti-trust cases pending when I took over last May 1. Of them, we have closed a total of 51, or a little over one-third. Since I took office, 24 new cases have been instituted."

"Dirksen: What percentage of these cases can be terminated by consent decrees?"

"Barnes: Roughly 80 per cent. If we allow the defendants, especially in criminal actions, to plead nolo contendere, we feel we have enough to do, particularly with our staff cut down under the economy regime, so we are now trying to close as many cases as possible and filing only hard core ones."

"Dirksen: How many cases in your Division have a cartel aspect?"

"Barnes: I would say a half dozen, the main one being the so-called international oil cartel case; it has been decided on the cabinet level and information should come from the National Security Council."

"Dirksen: Is it a diplomatic case?"

"Barnes: To the nth degree."

"Senator Harley Kilgore (D-W. Va.): Suppose you tell us some more about the theory and policy under which you are operating in enforcing the anti-trust laws. Just what are you doing on that?"

"Barnes: We have adopted a different procedure from the previous Administration, in our effort to cooperate with private industry, as the Republican platform declares. We have adopted the practice of calling pre-trial conferences, or the equivalent of such conferences."

"Kilgore: For the purpose of cooperating with private industry, I take it?"

"Barnes: That's right. For instance: We have 14 cases which are capable of being filed tomorrow if we desire to do that. But instead of filing them and then talking settlement, we think there is a psychological advantage in calling in the attorneys interested in these cases. That's what we did in 11 cases recently."

"We called in counsel, presented them with our proposed complaint and suggested they study it. Then they prepared a proposed answer which they would file should we proceed with our complaint. Thus the issues were joined, in a way, and then we started negotiations to determine whether there was an area in which we could work out a consent decree."

"Dirksen: What happened in those 11 cases?"

"Barnes: We have agreed on two consent decrees, are still negotiating in five others, and have filed four complaints."

"Dirksen: On the basis of that record, would you say your new policy is working out?"

"Barnes: Frankly, it hasn't worked out as well as I hoped it would. I find that the legal profession works a little better under the whiplash of court deadlines than under letters from the Justice Department."

George Sokolsky Says...

Anti-Communism Has Suffered Setback Because Types Not Fully Recognized

This much will come out of the McCarthy-Stevens conflict: the entire subject of Congressional committees, their nature, purpose and procedures will have to be reviewed and decisions taken by the Congress itself concerning their future.

Always important are the fundamental rights of citizens and while it is to be recognized that Communists are, by their disciplines, agents of a foreign power, nevertheless, as citizens of the United States, they enjoy constitutional rights which cannot be impaired. The conflict here is not only in the law but in the spirit of the times. No law exists, not even the Smith Act, which outlaws the Communist Party and which makes it illegal for an American to accept the Marxist Church as a way of life.

The confusions before Congressional committees mirror the confusions in American thought from the impact of a new religion, the Marxist Church, and a new Universal State, Soviet Russia. Our thinking on the subject is limited to our small experience with social revolutions.

When Bill Haywood, Ben Reiterman, Carlo Tresca and Elizabeth Gurley Flynn advocated the anarcho-syndicalism of the I. W. W., nobody worried too much about them, any more than Emma Goldman's brand of anarchism left even a scratch on the surface of our history.

Even Eugene V. Debs, who fashioned American Socialism, or Morris Hillquit or Victor Berger left few footprints on the sands of American thought.

The Marxists divide themselves into many groups. Our difficulties arise from the tendency to throw them into one package and call them all Communists, which quickly translates itself into the word, spy. Let me differentiate these groups:

1. Intellectual Marxists: These are men and women who accept the doctrine of dialectical materialism as a suitable solution to man's problems. They reject the mystical concepts of Christianity, particularly the creation of man by God and the revelation of Natural Law by which a moral society exists not by human evolution and development but by the authority of the Creator.

Many such intellectual Marxists may be opposed to Soviet Russia as a Universal State and to the Communist Party as an agency of discipline. To outsiders, it would appear that they talk one way and act another and therefore in Congressional investigations, they are often placed in an ambiguous and embarrassing position.

2. Anti-Communist Marxists: Since 1848, Marxist ideas have affected and influenced great numbers of persons in all countries. As a doctrine, Marxism has proved to be particularly attractive to social and natural scientists. The Social Democratic parties in all countries based themselves on Marxism. Until the organization of the disciplined Russian Bolshevik group in 1903, numerous interpretations of Marxism appeared. The Russian party was split on doctrine until Lenin took over in 1917 and established a rigid orthodoxy.

The turnover of supporters has been enormous, particularly among intellectuals. Many fled the orthodox Communist Party because of its limitations upon the human spirit; nevertheless they did not desert the sociology of Marxism. Among such are to be found the most violent and effective anti-Communists.

3. The Communists: These are party members, accepting the rigid disciplines of revolutionary partisanship, never rejecting the absurdities of twisting party lines, devoting themselves to underground responsibilities even if they involve espionage and treason. Theirs but to obey in the hope that the revolution will ultimately free men from class, racial, national, religious distinctions, and that all men will eventually be brothers in the bosom of the Kremlin.

The difficulty has been that the American Congressional committees investigating Communism do not always make such distinctions. Too often, they do not know enough about the subject to understand how a scientist, for instance, can accept the environmentalist theories inherent in Marxism and not be a spy for Malenkov. It will be necessary for them to inform themselves on the subject, to differentiate between ideas and action if all anti-Communist efforts are not to become absurd.

Anti-Communism has suffered a setback in the United States during the past year because its broad generalizations, particularly concerning intellectuals, have been rejected as incredible. As a matter of fact, if the capitalistic anti-Communists could make common cause with the Marxist anti-Communists, the small but hellish band of conspirators would be driven from our land.

The turnover of supporters has been enormous, particularly among intellectuals. Many fled the orthodox Communist Party because of its limitations upon the human spirit; nevertheless they did not desert the sociology of Marxism. Among such are to be found the most violent and effective anti-Communists.

3. The Communists: These are party members, accepting the rigid disciplines of revolutionary partisanship, never rejecting the absurdities of twisting party lines, devoting themselves to underground responsibilities even if they involve espionage and treason. Theirs but to obey in the hope that the revolution will ultimately free men from class, racial, national, religious distinctions, and that all men will eventually be brothers in the bosom of the Kremlin.

The difficulty has been that the American Congressional committees investigating Communism do not always make such distinctions. Too often, they do not know enough about the subject to understand how a scientist, for instance, can accept the environmentalist theories inherent in Marxism and not be a spy for Malenkov. It will be necessary for them to inform themselves on the subject, to differentiate between ideas and action if all anti-Communist efforts are not to become absurd.

Sweeping Changes In Educational System Urged By State

County Groups Discuss New Study Guide

A "cooperative" committee has recommended sweeping changes and enlargements in Pennsylvania's educational system.

These recommendations, contained in a "study guide," are now being discussed by Monroe County educators, PTA groups and principals.

Among the changes recommended by the State committee: combination of districts within the county to provide bigger school systems; establishment of specialized training for handicapped children; setting up of vocational schools.

Some copies of the report have been distributed locally by John C. Latta, county superintendent of schools.

Officially the guide is called "A Study Guide by the Pennsylvania Cooperative Program in Educational Administration." It's contents are reasonably clear but the presumptions made in beginning the guide are less so, school officials feel.

In a forward to the study guide, the cooperative group's analysis of present school needs is stated this way:

"The need for reorganizing the administrative structure of our public school system in Pennsylvania has long been recognized and is becoming increasingly evident as current demands for expanding school services emphasize inherent weaknesses."

The statement was made originally in a bulletin put out by the Department of Public Instruction over the signature of Dr. Francis B. Haas, state school superintendent.

There are three "purposes" in the current study guide recommendations for larger, more centralized schools combining two or more districts.

They are: (1) The educational services needed to provide the best opportunities for boys and girls in Pennsylvania; (2) How can each of these services best be provided in the total administrative structure? and (3) What should be the functions and relationships of administrative units and the Public Instruction Department.

There are, the guide says, a series of problems "pointing up the need" for the current study.

Among them: Great increase in enrollment—administrators expect a total State enrollment of 2,071,000 in 1960; an increase of 321,000 over present enrollments.

Equalization of "educational opportunities" for all children. Meaning more specialized teaching for guidance, adult education, psychological services, vocational training, special classes for the deaf, blind, crippled and those with speech defects.

A possible need for an "upward extension" of education through the 13th and 14th years in the public schools.

Growth of needs for kindergarten and nursery school training in many areas.

The study guide asks teachers, parents to discuss each of the three purposes listed in its brochure. In so doing, it lists several alternatives for comparative discussion.

When it asks, for example, what further services are needed to provide the "best opportunities" for children, it also provides a listing of 34 possible "needed" services.

On the list are the following: school psychologist, home and school visitor, speech correctionist, homebound pupil teachers, classes for "mentally retarded" children, child guidance clinic, classes for cerebral palsied children etc.

Those studying the guide are asked to check those of the 34 services they feel should be provided for district children.

Under "purpose 2," the guide asks those studying the survey to discuss and decide in what manner these extra services may be provided most feasibly.

In general the tenor of the current study guide is urgency. State school administrators, apparently ignoring the fact that jointure, merger and union districts do not exist in many county-wide areas (such as Monroe), have proceeded on the assumption that such four or five-township (or district) groups do exist or will at an early date.

This, of course, is not a new move. During the past ten years the General Assembly has made jointure, merger and union progressively more and more attractive at the urging of State school officials.

Most recent discussion of the study guide was held Tuesday

HOT POTATOES—Ten thousand dollars worth of potatoes go up in smoke along with the Robert Getz barn early yesterday. Spuds were owned by Warren Getz, a wholesaler. Barn was valued at $5,000. Cause of fire was undetermined.

Red Cross Still $3,600 Shy Of Goal

March, which was Red Cross month throughout the nation, closed with the Monroe County Chapter still $3,600 short of its quota of $13,300.

The sum of $262.15 turned in at Red Cross headquarters yesterday brought the total to date to $9,696.79. Biggest lag in receipts seems to be in the town area, and the chairman attribute it to the fact that workers have delayed in turning in their donations until they have completed their entire territory.

In the sections which have completed their drive, they have exceeded their quota in each case. Hamilton Township with a quota of $250 has turned in more than $315. Mount Pocono with a quota of $250 has turned in $304.

Paradise Township with a quota of $225 has given more than $286.85. Pocono Township with a $350 quota has given $429. Polk Township's quota of $100 was exceeded with donations of $149.85. Coolbaugh Township, too, has almost achieved its quota.

Today is expected to bring in more final returns as the workers complete their territories.

night at a meeting of the County Council of Parent Teachers Associations at Paradise School.

With more than 60 persons attending, the meeting included representatives from Barrett, Clearview, Coolbaugh, Jackson, Middle Smithfield, Mount Pocono, Paradise, Smithfield, Tobyhanna and Play School Cooperative parents group.

During this meeting one of the primary objections to plans for centralization was the matter of transporting pupils to and from school.

Some residents, especially those from mountainous regions, are of the opinion that transportation difficulties during hard-weather months would be practically insurmountable in cases where several outlying districts were combined.

Discussion of the study guide proposals will be continued this afternoon at a meeting for local school administrators and principals at East Stroudsburg Junior High School.

The meeting begins at 1 p.m. Both Latta and assistant county superintendent Walter Sebring will be on hand to discuss provisions of the guide.

Barn Filled With Potatoes Destroyed In $15,000 Fire

Kresgeville—The Robert Getz barn burned down here yesterday with about $10,000 worth of potatoes inside.

The blaze started about 6:45 a. m. It was reported by a neighbor who came out of his house and saw the flames.

The Townwensing Township Fire Co. responded but the blaze had too big a headway. The barn was leveled.

It was located at the rear of the Jonas Hotel and was valued at about $5,000, according to a family member.

The potatoes in the barn were owned by Warren Getz, a potato wholesaler. Cause of the fire was not found, Warren Getz said. He said the loss was partly insured.

Boy Scout Troop Receives Charter At Ceremony Held At Delaware Water Gap

A new Boy Scout troop was officially chartered in Delaware Water Gap last night by Dr. Francis B. McGarry, Pocono District chairman. Troop 92 received its charter in colorful ceremonies with Dr. McGarry and Rev. Luther E. Markin in charge.

A court of honor was held during which James Howard was advanced to Star Scout rank by Rev. Markin.

Explorers scouts who are members of the troop are Gordon Aker, Dennis Smolak, Ronald Hermance, James Howard and Donald Kitchen.

Scouts are Allen Metzgar, Alan Reinhardt, Kurt Clausen, Robert Clarkson and Fred Jennings.

Scouts with tenderfoot rank are Robert Dickinson, John Bryfogle and Harold Transue.

Among activities carried out by the troop during February, the audience was told, were a weekend at Camp Weygand, a camp "cook-out," a trip to Valley Forge Park and a "Scout week" supper.

The troop plans numerous activities for the summer months, leaders said.

Services Held For VanCampen

Services for John Van Campen, 74, of 143 Centel St., East Stroudsburg, were held yesterday at Lanterman funeral home, East Stroudsburg, with Rev. William F. Wunder officiating.

Burial was at Stroudsburg Cemetery. Pallbearers were Henry Peters, Fred Pugh, Samuel Miller, Wells VanCampen, Charles Patterson and Russell Philman.

Depot Workers Ignore Pickets At Tobyhanna

Tobyhanna—A majority of union men affiliated with the Scranton Building Trades Council crossed picket lines yesterday to return to work at the U. S. Signal Corps Depot here.

Joseph F. Bartell, president of the council, said the group's executive board decided that striking ironworkers violated regulations in failing to notify in advance a picket line would be established.

Among those who crossed the line set up by the International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Iron Workers, were members of drivers, carpenters, laborers, steamfitters, operating engineers and electrical workers' unions. They numbered more than 250.

The ironworkers are protesting erection of metal racks in completed warehouses by Signal Corps employees, who are under Civil Service.

The union claims the work is within its jurisdiction as long as construction continues at the site. Some crafts still honored the ironworkers' picket line and these included 45 plumbers and painters. There has been no violence.

Two Men Face New Charges

Two ex-East Stroudsburg men finished penitentiary sentences this week—but they were immediately remanded to Warren County, N. J., jail.

The men—Joseph William Miller, 23, of 24 E. Broad St. and Richard LaBar, 29, of 287 Harris St.—are accused of stealing machinery from a Pahaquarry Township business in July 1952.

Both Miller and LaBar have just completed 20-month sentences in the Eastern Penitentiary at Graterford, Pa. on similar charges filed against them by this State.

April 7 has been set as the pleading date for the case by Judge William P. Tallman, Warren County Court in Belvidere, N. J.

Charles Serfass Rites Conducted

Services for Charles Serfass, 78, of Kresgeville, was held yesterday at Hamm funeral home, Brodheadsville, with Rev. James R. Laubach officiating.

Burial was at Dotters Corner Cemetery. Pallbearers were relatives.

Cancer Society Launches County-Wide Crusade For $4,400 To Finance Research

A "crusade" for $4,400 to help provide services to cancer victims in Monroe County and give funds to the American Cancer Society victims in Monroe County and give funds to the American Cancer Society for research will be launched today by the county unit of the ACS.

Chairman of the 1954 Monroe County "Cancer Crusade" is David L. Miller, 420 Normal St., East Stroudsburg.

Miller is now a member of the borough school board; has served two terms as president of the borough Parent Teachers Association.

An artist, he is past president of the Pocono Mountains Art Group and one of its founders.

Workers will solicit funds for the drive throughout this month. April is set aside by Congressional declaration as "Cancer Month" in the U. S.

Reports on collections will be made each Wednesday to the cancer unit's office at 615 Sarah St., Stroudsburg. Mrs. Frederick Trumbour is the county captain. She is assisted by Mrs. Russell Baggott who serves as chapter secretary.

Officers of the county unit are Dr. Paul Shiffer, president; Joseph McCluskey, vice president. John Wait, treasurer.

Heading committees this year are Mrs. John Stanford, service committee; Ralph O. Burrows and Alfred Munson, co-chairmen of the educational committee; Robert S. Widmer, publicity.

Jaycees Call Meeting For Friday Night

The second "introductory" meeting for the purpose of forming a Monroe County chapter of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be held Friday night.

The meeting will again be led by officers of the Allentown-Bethlehem Jaycee chapters. It will be held in the Wyckoff recreation hall above the Sears farm store, N. Sixth St., Stroudsburg. Starting time is set for 8 p.m.

Jaycee membership is open to all men between the ages of 21 and 35. Men over 35 may join, however, but are not allowed to hold office.

The Jaycee organization is a service club for young men. Although similar in name, it is independent from the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Judge Upholds Objection In Damage Case

Unless a more specific complaint is filed, the court will turn thumbs down on a guest's charge that Pocahontas Lodge was responsible for his fall from a 10-foot ledge.

That was the gist of the opinion filed yesterday by President Judge Fred W. Davis in response to preliminary objections by Walter and Margaret Geaslen, operators of the Minisink Hills lodge.

The opinion said that Blaise Santoanni, the plaintiff, claimed he was a paying guest of the Geaslens on a plateau, and that about 11:30 a. m. he fell about 10 feet from a ledge.

The guest charged negligence on the part of the lodge and asked unspecified damages for personal injury.

The Geaslens countered by arguing that the complaint was not specific enough.

Judge Davis sustained the objection and ordered the complaint stricken off the judgment entered for the defendants unless within 20 days a more specific complaint was filed.

Jean Argot, Margaret Smith Listed For Top Honors At Tobyhanna Township School

Pocono Pines—Honor students for the 1954 senior class of Tobyhanna Township High School were announced last night by C. Willis Dunlap, principal.

Jean Argot is the valedictorian. Margaret Smith is the salutatorian.

Miss Argot is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milo Argot, Pocono Lake. She has been active in the Student Council, Junior Historical Club and Future Homemakers Club of America chapter.

She transferred to the local school from White Haven High School at the end of her sophomore year. She plans to enter Pennsylvania State University in September.

Miss Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith, Pocono. She has been active in school affairs; has been editor of the school paper and the yearbook for two years.

She has also taken part in the junior and senior plays and the school operetta; is a member of Glee Club and has taken an active part in school concerts and gym exhibitions.

She plans to enter East Stroudsburg State Teachers College in September where she will major in elementary teaching.

Miss Hess Takes Part In Program

Virginia Hess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Hess of 43 Broad St., Stroudsburg, recently participated in a panel discussion at Barrett High School. The program, sponsored by the social studies department of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, was entitled "Youth in the United Nations."

Miss Hess was selected for this performance because of the insight she displayed while a member of a United Nations class.

Accompanying Miss Hess on the panel were Dr. Leroy J. Koehler, head of the social studies department; Kurt Wimer, associate professor of social studies; Bruno Pontorio and Ted Shanoski, seniors at the college.

Miss Hess, a junior at the college, is majoring in English. She is a member of the Blue Penell Club, a literary organization; Mask and Zany, a dramatic society; and the Stroud Courier, the college publication.

Citizens Plot New Move In Bridge Dispute

The Interstate Citizens Committee may take another step next Tuesday in its fight to keep the Route 46 free bridge between Delaware, N. J., and Portland open.

Members of the committee are continuing their fight with the Delaware Joint Toll Bridge Commission despite a decision by Judge Phillip Forman, U. S. District Court, Trenton, last week ruling that the toll commission was within its rights in seeking to close and destroy the bridge.

State Sen. Wayne Dumont Jr., Phillipsburg, said this week that attorneys for the committee were seeking a "stay of judgment on the complaint." Object of the stay would be to allow the committee to file an appeal with the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia.

Closing and destruction of the bridge by the commission has been delayed since last Dec. 1.

Dumont indicated that he and Fred Fuchs Jr., president of the citizens committee, would accompany attorney Isadore Glauberman, Jersey City, when the plea for a stay is filed.

Editor
Daily Record
Stroudsburg, Pa.
Dear Sir:

I wish to take this opportunity on behalf of myself, the supervisors and employees of the Internal Revenue Service, to thank The Daily Record for the splendid coverage given to income tax matters and taxpayer assistance during the current income tax filing period.

Newspaper people help us to do a tremendous job of taxpayer assistance every year, and we are sincerely grateful for the space allotted to news and educational items.

Thank you again in the name of the Internal Revenue Service.
Very truly yours,
Joseph J. Lawler,
District Director.

Monroe County Collects $281,259 In Local Taxes

Local taxation proved the biggest income source in 1953, bringing the county government $281,259.33.

This was more than half of the total receipts of $405,342.98 listed in the 1953 audit which was filed Tuesday at the Court-house.

Bulk of tax receipts were in the general fund, to which local taxes contributed $213,814.56.

Real Estate and occupation

Shop Students Hear Talk By Plant Engineer

East Stroudsburg High School shop students heard a discussion of engineering recently by John Fischer, chief engineer at the Patterson-Kelley Co.

Fischer discussed the duties of those persons employed by the "product design engineering department" at the firm. An outline of the relationship between the department and others maintained by the firm was also made.

Patterson-Kelley, the speaker said, specializes in custom-made products. This, he said, means that the first thing the engineering department must decide is whether their plant is capable of making the product that the customer desires.

If the company is capable of doing the job, then the department is responsible for drawing detailed designs of the work needed.

Taxes brought $178,745.50. The local tax on personal property (clocks, bonds, notes, etc.) added $35,068.96.

Institution district received $67,444.77 in local taxes.

One of the biggest single income sources after taxation was money returned by the State out of the levies on gasoline. This "liquid fuels tax" income from the State added up to $83,826.23.

Interest on bonds in the liquid fuels account brought $500. Total receipts, plus the Jan. 1, 1953, balance of $25,226.79, added up to $109,553.02.

Non-tax receipts in the general fund which were in excess of $500 were these: Commonwealth costs $6,496.44; sheriff's fees $4,203.10, transferred from the liquid fuels account $1,932.56, by authorization of the State Highway Department; State payments for State lands lying within the county, $927.15; refunds by former county officials, $705.22; part-payment for Ross Township schoolhouse, $500, and return of unused check for further payment on same schoolhouse, $525.

Receipts topping $500 and listed under "commissioners' receipts" are: maintenance in institutions $873.20; personal property tax $624.56; final payment of election house, $1,000; former county officials' refunds $750; social security refund, $805.70.

Total general fund balance and receipts were $319,698.92.

Non-tax receipts in the Institution district fund which exceeded $500 were: refunds from individuals, $10,622.77; sale of farm and garden products from the county farm, $2,943.58.

Total receipts and balances for the institution district were $121,476.54.

In the physicians' fees fund receipts of $3,366 were from Commonwealth costs. Total receipts and balance were $8,868.73.

The returned tax account showed $39,310.67 in the receipts column.

Stolen Car Discovered In Flames

Mount Pocono—A 1950 model car reported stolen early yesterday morning in Bellville, N. J., later was discovered near here in flames. State police are continuing the investigation with Cpl. Donald Unger, police fire marshal, following the discovery by Charles Vogt of Cresco.

Vogt told police he saw the car in flames parked just north of Route 196 between here and Paradise Valley at 8 a.m. The vehicle was demolished despite efforts of Mount Pocono Volunteer Fire Co. members to save it.

Police said they were informed of the theft in a teletype message from Trenton, N.J. The car was owned by Michael DeVito of Bellville.

Police Probe Burglary Of County Cottage

Shawnee—Stroudsburg troopers were investigating this area yesterday to try to locate a summer cottage reportedly burglarized by two juveniles recently.

Police theorized that the cottage owner has not yet discovered the break-in. The burglary never had been reported to police, said the Stroudsburg barracks.

The information was revealed when two Bethlehem boys, aged 14, were taken into custody in Bradford County. The lads said they had run away from home.

Police said they stole several pairs of trousers, a hunting knife, a hatchet, a hammer and a suitcase from the cottage.

Ruling Filed In Ball Park Equity Action

A Barrett Township couple sued to prevent the building of a Little League baseball park near their house. Yesterday they received a court answer.

"Twenty days are allowed the plaintiffs to amend their complaint," said the order written by President Judge Fred W. Davis.

If the complaint is not amended, the order went on, the suit will be dismissed.

In their equity action John and Thelma Black said they bought a tract from the Evan Blutz Association (American Legion) in 1950. Before delivering the deed, the Blacks claimed the American Legion president told them orally that part of the Legion's property on the north side of Legion Drive would be used as a Legion Home and Memorial Park and that there would be no commercial business of any kind on it.

The Blacks built their house, then learned the Legion intended to lease the ground on the north side of the drive to build a Little League baseball park; put in a refreshment stand; put up a fence around the ballfield; and sell advertising space on the fence, the complaint said.

The Blacks asked the court to restrain the Legion from using the ground for anything but a park with a Legion home on it.

The Legion argued in part that the Blacks were trying to impose a restriction which wasn't contained in the deed; and that all the preliminary agreements between the parties were included in the deed.

According to Judge Davis' finding, the Blacks didn't claim that the restriction was left out of the deed by mistake.

The judge said that if the Blacks wanted to make that allegation they would be allowed the chance to amend the original complaint. The order followed.

Average Saving In Phone Tax Estimated At $6.12 Annually

"The reduction in the telephone excise taxes to 10 per cent will mean an average yearly saving to Pennsylvania telephone subscribers of approximately $6.12 per telephone," Budd VanHorn, local manager of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, said yesterday.

Polio Vaccine Not For Sale, Parents Told

Harrisburg (AP)—Don't try to buy any of the new polio vaccine. It isn't for sale.

Dr. Russell E. Teague, state health secretary, emphasized this point yesterday in answer to queries as to whether parents can purchase the vaccine for use on their children.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is the exclusive purchaser of the new vaccine which Dr. Teague said was the answer to the horrors of polio.

About 30 pints will be sent to Pennsylvania next month for use on some 5,000 second grade children in Mercer, Centre, McKean and Clinton Counties as part of a nationwide experiment.

At no cost, each of the second grade children will receive a small dose of the vaccine, an identical dose the second week and a third and final dose three weeks after that.

"There will be no reaction at all," Dr. Teague said. "There won't be fever or sore arms as a result."

Mrs. VanBuskirk Honored At Rites

Services for Mrs. Margaret I. VanBuskirk, 49, of 114 Broad St., Stroudsburg, was held yesterday at the home of her mother, Mrs. Catherine Knecht, Tobyhanna.

Officiating was Rev. Donald Nover. Burial was at Pocono Lake Cemetery. Pallbearers were brothers: Harry, Lloyd, William, Henry, Charles and Boyer Knecht. Lanterman funeral home, East Stroudsburg, arranged services.

Milk Price Drops Cent Here Today

The price of milk will drop one cent per quart today in this area. A one-cent decrease for 12 of the State's 13 milk-producing areas was announced yesterday by the Pennsylvania Milk Control Commission.

The Lehigh-Northampton marketing area, which includes Monroe County, is slated to drop retail milk prices effective today.

Price of milk yesterday was 23 cents per quart, retail. Price today will be 22 cents, according to the PMCC.

Lower prices went into effect previously in Scranton. The control commission is an organization which attempts to bring about a balance of production and consumption of milk in this State.

The PMCC said prices will probably revert to their March 31 level about Sept. 1 when the dairy industry undergoes a seasonal production slump.

Mary Lou Simpson Honored On 21st Birthday

Swiftwater — Coming of age was a delightful event in the life of Mary Lou Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Minze Simpson, of East Swiftwater. Arriving home from Farm-on-the-Hill, where she has part-time employment, Mary Lou found a group of her friends and relatives assembled to surprise her with a party, Sunday, March 28. Guests had arrived early and their cars had been hidden in a pasture lot. Mrs. Simpson had the assistance of Mrs. Francis Coffman and Mrs. Joseph Stowartz in decorating the room with crepe paper and balloons. A large decorated cake bearing 21 candles centered the birthday table, where they were served ice cream and sodas and the cake later.

Her parents presented Mary Lou with a cedar chest and an orchid corsage, and she received many other gifts and cards, including a money gift from her employers. The time was spent in playing games, with prizes going to Beverly Bach, Olive Jane Kresge, Peggy Miller, Claudette Singer, Gloria Mader, Shirley Strong, and Mary Lou. Each guest received favors, and a party cup of vari-colored candies.

Mary Lou is a graduate of Barrett High School, class of 1953, and is also part-time waitress at Johnson's Diner in Scotrun.

Callers at the Simpson home to wish Mary Lou many happy returns were: Mrs. Jack Stowartz, Mrs. Walter Stowartz, Mrs. Joseph Stowartz, Harry Simpson, Jean Hager, and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Coffman. Those invited but unable to attend: Lydia Ann Stowartz, Ruth Ann Coffman, Harold Metzgar, and Kenneth Schuler.

The date was also the 19th birthday of one of the guests, Joyce Metzgar.

Stork Shower For Mrs. Sebring By Penney Employees

The associates of the J. C. Penney Co., Stroudsburg store held a surprise stork shower on Tuesday night in honor of Mrs. Joseph Sebring. The dinner party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Miller, Mountainhome.

They presented her with a gift from the combined group. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Max Stadfeld, Leon Krause, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Miller, William Serfass, Mrs. Martha Longely, Mrs. Gloria Randolph, Mrs. Josephine Smith, Mrs. Maud Sheif, and the guest of honor, Mrs. Jane Sebring.

Those invited but unable to attend were Mrs. Mary Smith, Mrs. Evelyn Shiffer, Miss Alice Bill and Mrs. Fae Woolever.

Poc. Teen-Agers Seek Games For Their Meetings

Tannersville — The Teen-Agers Club of Pocono Township are sending out an appeal for games to be used in connection with their meetings. Table tennis equipment, quilts, darts, chess and card games will be much appreciated by the group.

Any such contributions may be left with Mrs. Louis Metzgar at the Market, who will also see that cash donations for this purpose be used to the best advantage.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

I still think the best April Fool gag we pulled in quite a while was the one where Jim Riley wrote "Just Between Us" and I took over the "Life of Riley." However, that Easter bonnet which Jim received as an aftermath of his venture into the social world cured him of ever trying it again, so I'll just have to plug along same as usual.

It was a little previous, but they sort of pulled an April fool on Rev. Ernest Campbell last night when the florist box he received revealed an exceedingly bulbous-looking red flower. However, the surprise was sprung before time when he dropped it, and it bounced. There was a golf ball inside, a retread, Ed Williams said.

And the weather was a little previous, too, with its April Fooling—with an April snowstorm to greet the surprised party goers leaving with their new spring hats on.

I could think of a few more April Fool jokes, but I think I'll save them as protection against my own family today. So far as I know the meetings listed on the social calendar are for real, but I'd advise you to make that first bite into the refreshments a small one—just to be on the safe side. Though I think Lida Gregory is still in Florida.

Congregation Pays Tribute To Campbells

The congregation of the First Presbyterian Church of Stroudsburg last night gathered to wish their minister and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Ernest T. Campbell, God-speed as they are preparing to leave for their new church in York, after Easter.

The party, arranged by the Woman's Association of the church, filled the church school assembly room to overflowing. Edward Williams served as master of ceremonies and presented a corsage to Mrs. Campbell, and a boutonniere to Mr. Campbell whose peculiar red flower revealed a golf ball.

He also presented the gift of the whole congregation with their wishes for a happy future and their gratitude for the five years in which they have enjoyed the great talents of the pastor and his wife.

Mr. Campbell, in expressing their appreciation, praised the harmony of the congregation, the dedication of the ministry of music, the forward-looking session, the cooperation of the trustees, deacons and deaconesses, and the "self-propelled" Women's Association, and the pleasant associations which he and his family hope to renew during summer vacations.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wolbert sang a group of solos. "Bigger Than You and I" by Mr. Wolbert, "May Carol" by Mrs. Wolbert and "Sylvia" as a duet. Miss Meggie Denning gave a reading of excerpts from the book "Papa was a Preacher."

There was congregational singing led by Herbert Bellairs with Vernon Imbt as accompanist. Refreshments were served following the informal program.

Hamilton Class Plans Easter Egg Hunt

Hamilton Township — The Ever Welcome class of Hamilton Union Sunday School, Hamilton Square, met at the home of Ruth Siproth recently with Helen Kemmerer presiding. Scripture was read by Ada Hansen and the prayer was led by Edith Young. The class decided to sponsor an Easter egg hunt on Saturday afternoon, April 17. Each member of the class will donate a dozen eggs. Further plans were also made for the penny supper to be held at Ada Hansen's on June 12 instead of May 8 as previously announced.

Games were played and refreshments were served by the hostesses, Ruth Siproth and Martha Jean Kemmerer. Those present were Olive Dennis, Evelyn Smith, Melva Courtwright, Ada Hansen, Mildred Haney, Mary Ellen Lotz, Edith Young, Elise Shafer, Velma Hartman, Helen Kemmerer, Gwendie Hahn and Marie Siproth.

The next meeting will be held at Ada Hansen's with Mary Voige assisting, on April 23.

D. of A. Friday

Victoria Council No. 165, Daughters of America, will meet Friday night when plans will be made for the school of instruction in Northampton in April.

Matriarch To Celebrate Birthday

Bushkill — Mrs. Emma VanWhy will celebrate her birthday on Saturday, April 3.

Mrs. VanWhy is the grandmother of fifteen grandchildren, Ruth and Barry Minter, Lawrence, Paul, Sherwood, Richard and Douglas Butz, Mrs. Wilford Moore, Beverly, Barbara, Pamela, Carl, Larry, Chester and Doris VanWhy, and a great grandmother to seven children, David Luttrell, Brad, Dale, Bruce, Joyce, Brian and Boyd Butz. She resides with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Minter on Sugar Mountain Rd.

Spent most of yesterday afternoon deviling eggs. In fact, had you seen our kitchen table along about 3:30, you'd have believed I had gone into partnership with the Easter Bunny. There were eggs to the right of me, eggs to the left of me, and three children making remarks about the situation and begging for "Just one, Mommie, please—just one."

You see, these last few days have been party days at Wyckoff's and the big event of last evening was a farewell covered dish supper for Bessie Ramsey who leaves us Saturday night after thirty years. Bessie is one of those fortunate people now able to draw her Wyckoff pension, and all of us hope she will enjoy the rest and relaxation she so richly deserves. Certainly there is no one among us who has worked more conscientiously than she.

Day before yesterday, a Bon Voyage party was given Edna Brockman and Walter Wyckoff by the girls of the various offices. Dottie Dunn, who can always be counted upon for a clever idea, wrapped the gifts. Guess how! In red and blue bandanas attached to long sticks, in the best hobnob-approved manner. The bundles were complete even to crusts of dry bread.

Would you like to know what we gave them? Not a lot, mind you, because we knew they were already packed and hoping to cut down on their luggage rather than expand it. (Anyway, it was the day before pay day.) Nevertheless, our selections were made carefully in the hope of fitting their needs. Walter received colored film, which isn't exactly inexpensive and which he desired above all else because he means to make a veritable travelogue for our edification and his own memory file. Then, we tossed in a few pairs of nylon socks because what man wants to go to Europe and spend all his time washing out bits of clothing?

To Edna we gave a set of shoe bags, to insure her dresses against suede and leather marks; a pair of stockings, and some plastic hangers with hooks attached, to hold hosiery and small items while they dry. Helen Mitchell who toured Europe last year said that these are very important, and we believe her because we sell a great many, not only to travelers but to college students living in dormitories.

It remained for Helen to give Edna the most important gift of all—a gold mesh pill box from our accessories department, and a supply of Dramamine. Isn't that the way you spell this insurance against seasickness?

Then, just the night before, we joined Mr. E. H. Wyckoff in honoring our 50 year customers with a dinner closing our 79th birthday anniversary. THAT was an event—notable for its splendid music, good fellowship, and interesting addresses; a party held amid the overpowering sweetness of spring flowers in myriad colors.

There is now a lull in the offering. No more parties for a while, I believe. Maybe it's for the better. We can all do with a little rest . . . a little while to assimilate our memories before they evade us. Then another cycle will begin. It always happens that way at Wyckoff's.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

A drive to make a modern and permanent lighting system at Memorial Stadium a reality gets underway this morning. The drive, which must raise $18,000, won't be easy and it won't end this week. The struggle to raise this large amount of money will be long, will require a lot of hard work and must have the cooperation of every citizen of East Stroudsburg. The goal is far away at this moment, but there is no reason why the sum can't be raised in the one year set aside for the drive.

It is really refreshing to see an organization such as the Varsity "E" Club at work. As pointed out previously, this club has been formed about seven months and in that short time has been the most active organization in Monroe County. It has greatly aided the athletic cause at East Stroudsburg High and it certainly doesn't plan to cease operations when the lights are purchased. Actually the much needed permanent lighting system is only one of a series of improvements the athletic club has in mind.

But, even as active and eager as the Varsity "E" Club is at the present time, it must be helped. It must receive encouragement, kind treatment and a helping hand. Everyone evenly remotely connected with East Stroudsburg High should feel obligated to add his contribution, regardless of its size, to the drive. The invitation to help isn't restricted to residents of the borough of East Stroudsburg itself, but rather fans out to take in virtually all of Monroe County—including Stroudsburg. The drive will even invade Portland, where the N. Courtland St. school has a multitude of friends.

This isn't the first time that East Stroudsburg has thought about permanent lights. The idea was first conceived back in 1919, but was dropped at that time with the belief that the cost would be reduced in future years. But, during the five years that have followed the purchase price has gone up almost $5,000. But, the good part about the 1954 plan is the fact that the lights will be constructed by a local concern and in that manner repair bills to follow will be less than if a foreign company was to invade this territory.

Actually, $18,000 isn't much for a lighting system, going by modern day prices. But, those people that know athletic fields and the manner in which lights are constructed, have gone on record as saying that the Memorial Stadium lights will be as good as any in the Lehigh Valley and surrounding territory. The new lights will greatly improve the value of the Memorial Stadium property and will benefit the player and paying customer as well. Actually, the purchase of a permanent system is an economy move, although it may appear just the opposite on the surface.

Last year the portable lighting system, used by East Stroudsburg High school cost $200 per game and next season it is a safe bet that prices will remain the same or go higher. It doesn't take a mathematician to figure out that the school district and the people of East Stroudsburg will actually save money in a few years through the purchase of a permanent system. As mentioned above the Varsity "E" Club has other plans for improvement of the athletic situation in East Stroudsburg, but everything else will be "peanuts" in comparison with the current drive.

None of the other expenses for projects under consideration will remotely match that $18,000 now being sought. Like everything else, there are those who frown on the purchase of new lights. This group is in evidence in any undertaking and certainly will be heard more often complaining than witnessed helping the cause. It is safe to wager that members of the anti-light group will either want to use the lights shortly after they are constructed or will take bows for completion of the project.

This scribble was on hand at Tuesday's meeting of the Varsity "E" Club, when Jacob Hill, president of the East Stroudsburg school board, informed the organization that no worthwhile program or project will be or has been turned down by the board for use of school property. Hill made his statement when informed that there are parties who maintain the lights will never be allowed turned on for community use, but rather would be kept for school use alone.

The drive opens today and closes on April 1, 1955, as far as pledges go. But, much of the cash must be obtained by August 1 of this year, as a down payment for the system. East Stroudsburg High has given the community two fine football teams in the past two years, through good coaching and great teamwork. Now its time for adults and non-athletic students of the borough to team together in one of the biggest games in East Stroudsburg's history. The drive must be a success—and this is no April Fool's joke.

Weston Wins Blue Mountain League Playoff Crown

Poconos Bow Out In Two Straight Games

Weston A. C. added the Blue Mountain Basketball League playoff crown to its regular season championship last night by turning back the Stroudsburg Poconos, 66-50, at Stroudsburg High.

The loss was the second straight for the Poconos and eliminated the home team from further title contention, despite the fact that the largest crowd to see a Blue Mountain League contest at Stroudsburg High this season was on hand last night.

Stroudsburg was very much in the battle through the first half, but the charges of Coach Tom Shiffer couldn't stand the pace set by Weston in the second half, particularly in the third period.

Both teams picked up 15 points in the opening round and the Poconos led by as many as six tallies in the second stanza, only to have Weston come on in the late moments to earn a 30-26 lead at half-time. The Easton club had the better of the going in the second period, 15-11.

Wide Open
Weston broke the game wide open in the third period, out-scoring the Poconos, 18-8, and entered the last period on the long end of a 48-34 count. The Easton contingent made certain of victory with an 18-16 bulge in the scoring during the last 10 minutes of action.

By losing the Poconos bowed out of the championship series in two straight games and finished second behind Weston just as in the regular season.

Henry "Hank" Stetler and Harvey "Hotsey" Bergman led the Stroudsburg scoring with 12 and 10 counters, while Don Sheats, Werner and Parnell paced the winning attack with 15, 12 and 18 points respectively.

Jacks Market won over Shook's All-Stars in the preliminary game, 89-67.

Lycoming Names Coach

Williamsport (AP) — David C. Bushey, 41-year-old Navy veteran, will coach the first Lycoming College football team to represent the school since 1950.

Navy
Bushey, who coached several football teams while serving with the Navy for nine years, was appointed yesterday by Dr. John W. Long, president.

Lycoming College announced eight months ago that the school would sponsor a football team this year after discontinuing the sport in 1950. The school has a student body of about 600.

Pirates Whip Yankees, 9-3

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP) — The upstart Pittsburgh Pirates whipped the world champion New York Yankees 9-3 yesterday, ending the Yank's worst Florida showing in the six years of "Casey" Stengel's reign.

Best Mark
Yesterday's loss was the 16th in 24 Florida games for the New Yorkers. Pittsburgh, a good bet to finish last in the National League, has a 12-6 Florida record, best of any of the 12 Florida-based clubs.

Dodgers Defeat Milwaukee, 10-7

Jacksonville, Fla. (AP) — Brooklyn's defending National League champions and their most feared challengers, Milwaukee, opened their homeward series yesterday with the Dodgers slugging out a 10-7 victory.

Scoring
The two judges and referee Bob Ingham saw it pretty much alike in the scoring—each dividing 10 points a round between the fighters under Missouri rules.

Judge Al Graff had it 57-43 for the Red Cross, La. Negro; Judge Gene Farrell, 56-44, and Ingham 55-45.

There were no knockdowns but a couple of times Savoie, off balance, went to one knee.

Kaseman Selected As Outstanding Player By Gold Medal Basketball Tournament Committee

Ray Kaseman, a member of the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College basketball team, was named the most outstanding basketball player in the recent Gold Medal Tournament last night, during a meeting of the tournament committee.

Warren "Mag" Loney, chairman of the tournament, announced that Kaseman headed the list of the three most valuable players, which was rounded out by Tony Black and Al Adelmann.

Kaseman played with City Cut Rate, runnerup in the final standings, while Black toiled for Misfits A. C. and Adelmann was a big reason the Stroudsburg Poconos won the tournament crown. Black won the best offensive player medal, hitting a high single game total of 32 points and 69 counters in the tournament.

Jim "Bunky" Smith, hard working guard for the Poconos, was named the best defensive player in the field.

Sportsmanship medals were presented to Don Diebler, of Stroudsburg Typewriter; Frank Stull, Stroudsburg Typewriter, and Karl Weingartner, Newman's Dress Shop.

Tourney Teams
The first tournament team as named last night consists of Kaseman, Black, Smith, Tom Davis and Henry "Hank" Stetler. Davis played with Misfits A. C. and Stetler with the Poconos. The second all-tournament quintet is made up of John Sloan, Pocono Gardens Lodge; Jack Newell, Stroudsburg

Typewriter; Dick Folmer, Misfits A. C.; Dave Nevil, Stroudsburg Typewriter, and Al Adelmann.

Bill Pensyl, Jack's Market, headed the third all-tournament aggregation, which also consists of Don Garaventi, Newman's Dress Shop; Bob "Red" Kupiszewski, Jack's Market; Dick Little, Stroudsburg Typewriter, and Nick Gatto, City Cut Rate.

The Poconos won the tournament title, followed by City Cut Rate, Stroudsburg Typewriter and Misfits A. C. in that order.

Tournament committee members include Mahlon Serfass, Walt Stem, George Metropoulos, John DeVivo, Byron Miller, Clint Warner, John Kupiec, Jerry Stulgaitis and Loney.

Varsity 'B' Club Adopts Constitution

Bangor — A meeting of the Varsity "B" Club took place in the library of Bangor High School last night, at which time a constitution was adopted. The club is currently in its second year of operation.

The club is limited to Bangor High School students who have won their varsity letter in athletics. Rodney Miller, three-letter athlete, is president of the organization and presided over last night's gathering.

Business
One of the chief topics of discussion was the possible formation of an Alumni Varsity "B" club, although no action was taken. The club has set Wednesday, April 23, as the date for its annual spring All-Sports banquet.

The affair will be held in the Blue Valley P. M. Show building and will be attended by all athletes, plus members of the band and cheerleading squads.

This banquet is made possible each year through the combined efforts of the Varsity "B" Club and the Athletic Association.

Bangor Little League Makes Plans For Opening Contests

Bangor — Top soil has been ordered for the Bangor Little League's new baseball field, it was announced last night at a meeting of the circuit here at the Fourth Ward Citizens Club.

The new field is currently under construction in the North West corner of Bangor Memorial Park. An outfield fence is being constructed and stands will be ready by opening day, Saturday, June 5.

A slight change was announced for the opening day schedule at last night's meeting. The times of the two games to be played on that date have been reset as 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. The nightcap will be played under the lights.

No Parade
It was also pointed out that the annual parade through the borough will be eliminated this year. The new rule which calls for all Little League runners, as well as batters, to wear helmets this season, was discussed at the meeting. Following the discussion new helmets were ordered.

Louis Trigini, president of the Bangor Little League, announced that donations for the new field continue to arrive at circuit headquarters. The Second Ward entry turned over $50.15 to the league last night. This money was raised by way of bake sales.

The next meeting of the league will be on Wednesday, April 14, at the Fourth Ward Citizens club once again. The umpire problem will be brought up for consideration at the next gathering.

Giants Decision Indians, 4-2

Houston, Tex. (AP) — The New York Giants regained their winning touch before a crowd of 8,232 in Buff Stadium yesterday, defeating the Cleveland Indians 4-2 to make their record nine out of 12 in their spring barnstorming tour with the Tribe.

Errors Help
The Giants who lost to Cleveland Tuesday, collected only four hits, but received help from the Indians, who made four errors.

Valdes Inks Contract
Brussels (AP) — Cuban heavyweight Nino Valdes had signed for a bout against Belgian Karei Sys late in April or early May, Belgian boxing promoter Franz Reis said yesterday.

Second Base
Jim Smiley and Tom Besecker are currently in the midst of a hot battle for second base, while Hallet and Butz, depending upon which one does the pitching, will alternate at the shortstop job.

John Frailey reportedly has the inside post on the first base spot, with Larry Starnier, a seventh grader, making an outstanding show for the same position.

Raschi Key To Cardinals' Flag Hopes

Editor's Note—This is the seventh in a series of training camp articles that will appear from time to time before the opening of the regular major league season pennant race.

By Jack Hand

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP)—"Buy a Yankee to beat Brooklyn." That's the World Series-born theory behind the purchase of Vic Raschi by the St. Louis Cardinals who didn't beat Brooklyn once all last season at Ebbets Field.

If the Cards had reversed their sad 0-11 record at Brooklyn, they could have closed the 22-game gap separating them from the Dodgers. Instead of a third-place tie with the Phillies, they might have won the pennant.

Manager Eddie Stanky, of course, doesn't expect Raschi to perform such a miracle all by himself. Still, the ex-Yankee righthander has an interesting series record. He is 3-2 against the Dodgers in three World Series but the two defeats were 1-0 to Preacher Roe in 1949 and 3-2 to Carl Erskine's 14-strikeout job last fall.

Different Man

Stanky, a fiery pepper pot on the field, is a different man off the field. His words to the press are carefully weighed for their effect on his players. Everything he says is double checked to see how it would look in print.

"With the additions we have made, through purchases and help from our farm system, we don't anticipate finishing 22 games back again, barring injuries, unless we should go all the way."

Who's going to play shortstop? "Solis Hemus and Alex Grammas are battling for shortstop. Whoever doesn't make it will stay with this ball club."

And first base?

"I won't make up my mind until the season opens who is on first and how long."

Shortstop and first base are the big stories in the Cards' camp this spring, for the wealthy brewery owners dished up about $200,000 cash to strengthen the two positions during the winter.

The $100,000 first baseman is Tom Alston, a six-foot-five Negro with a .297 average, 23 homers and 101 runs batted in at San Diego last year in 180 games. He can field rings around Steve Bilko, the .251 hitting 1953 regular, but once again comes the question of hitting.

Ray Jablonski, who hit 21 homers and drove in 112 runs with a .268 average in his rookie year, has Stanky's nod as the third baseman. Many think Hemus will be on the job by mid season. "Red" Schoendienst, of course, is the second baseman. He just missed the batting title last year, finishing two points behind Brooklyn's Carl Furillo at .342.

Outfield

Stan Musial, driving for a seventh batting crown, is the leftfielder with "Rip" Repulski in center and old dependable Enos Slaughter, 38, in right. Wally Moon, a young left-handed hitter with a .307 report card at Rochester, is the man of the future in the Card outfield. "Peanuts" Lowrey and Joe Frazier will be kept for pinch hitting chores.

Del Rice, Sal Yvars and either Dick Rand or Bill Sarni will be the catching.

Raschi's 13-6 record last season actually won't do much more than make up for the loss of "Vinegar Bend" Mizell (13-11), now in the Army. Raschi, Gerry Staley (18-9) and Harvey Laddix (20-9) are the certain starters. Tom Poholsky, back from the Army, Joe Presko (6-13) and Stu Miller (7-8) probably will be the other starters. Al Brazie (6-7) will be in the bullpen.

Cockell In Line For Title Scrap

London (AP)—Don Cockell's chances of getting a heavyweight title fight in September grew warmer yesterday as Roland LaStarza's manager still raged over the decision and the Briton's low blows in the 10 rounder Tuesday night.

The 25-year-old Cockell, British and British Empire heavyweight champion, was warned three times for low punches. He won the decision in a close fight.

"We were given a lecture before the fight and everything we were told not to do, Cockell did and was allowed to get away with it," said LaStarza's manager, Jimmy De Angelo.

"Cockell will have to fight Roland again," added De Angelo, "and I suggest it be held in a neutral place. LaStarza is ready to meet him anytime."

Look Favorable

"Things look favorable for Don in September," said Jack Solomons, who promoted the fight.

"I'm keeping in close touch with Al Weil, Marcano's manager, and U. S. officials I am to do a lot of business over the telephone."

Don's prospects were brightened by Tommy Jackson's knockout of third-ranking Dan Bucceroni in New York Monday night.

In New York, promoter Emil Lence of Eastern Parkway Arena said he had cabled Solomons an offer of $25,000 to have Cockell meet Jackson in Brooklyn's Ebbets Field late in June.

Gavilan Remains Underdog Although Odds Shrink On Olson

By Jerry Listia

Chicago (AP)—Odds on "Bobo" Olson as favorite slipped to 7-5 and challenger "Kid" Gavilan denied a report his right hand was ailing yesterday as both neared the end of preparations for their middleweight title bout Friday night.

A week ago, the balding, tattooed Olson, 25-year-old middleweight king from San Francisco, was rated a firm 9-5 choice over the world 147-pound champ from Cuba.

Right Idle

Although Gavilan, in doing his final sparring, didn't use his right hand much, his handlers denied it was because of a slight soreness.

Dr. Sam Swetnick of New York, serving as Gavilan's personal physician, said he inspected the "Kid" thoroughly and found nothing wrong with the hand.

Gavilan threw only a few rights in boxing four rounds against Junior Washington and Andy Figaro. Some observers thought there might be strategy in keeping his right idle, especially after the "Kid" commented before a drill watched by a bevy of boxing writers: "Sometimes you have to practice to show people what you are not going to do in a fight. Besides, with only one hand, I can beat Olson."

Olson's whereabouts was a mystery much of the day. His north side hotel said he wasn't in and at his training site, Rainbo Arena, he reportedly worked briefly behind closed doors.

Fine Point

Trained to a point where his handlers claim making the 160-pound limit Friday noon would be no problem, "Bobo" skipped rope and belted the bag, according to Rainbo attendants.

Angel Lopez, Gavilan's manager, said Gavilan would scale between 153 and 153½.

Lopez said he wouldn't be surprised if Gavilan knocked out Olson. Asked if Gavilan shared his optimism, Lopez retorted: "The Kid is even more confident than I am. He has no respect at all for this guy."

The bout will be televised nationally, but blacked out in Chicago and a 100-mile surrounding area.

CCNY Coach Wins Time

New York (AP)—Basketball coach Nat Holman won more time yesterday to save his job at the College of the City of New York (CCNY).

Lewis A. Wilson, state commissioner of education, blocked an order by the New York City Board of Higher Education that would have forced Holman to quit by tomorrow or be fired.

Holman appealed the order and Wilson granted the delay pending a decision on the appeal.

Finding

The Board of Higher Education earlier this month found Holman guilty of charges of neglect of duty and conduct unbecoming a teacher.

In doing so the board upset the findings of its trial committee.

The 56-year-old coach, an associate professor in CCNY's Hygiene Department with a salary of $9,000 a year, was suspended November 18, 1952.

THIS IS DEFINITELY NOT FOR YOU

If You Are Content With Small Earnings

But, if you require at least $150 per week, I can show you how your daily commission can bring you a weekly coverage of $150 to $200. I can prove it with the men now employed here. Lack of them were formerly truck drivers, construction workers, picture and appliance salesmen. Today these men are happy, prosperous and have good security for their future.

ARE YOU AMBITIOUS? WILLING TO WORK? DO YOU HAVE A CAR?

Well, if that's the case, I'd like to show you facts about the Great White Shield Program for Hospital, Medical and Surgical protection. Our dynamic advertising and referral from satisfied policyholders are bringing up phenomenal quantities of inquiries that, in most cases, require only a visit from you to complete the sale.

There's No Convassing—All Leads!

This ad is not enough for you unless you are curious enough to want to learn the facts about bettering yourself and your family. Write, phone or call in person.

Ottaway Firm Establishes Journalism Intern Program

James H. Ottaway, president of The Ottaway Newspapers-Radio, Inc., announced yesterday that his organization was establishing an internship program for juniors in the School of Journalism at Syracuse University under which the interns would be trained in newspaper and radio business operations.

"I have long felt," said Mr. Ottaway, "that the business side of newspapers and radio needed to devote greater emphasis to the recruiting of young men. There seems to be a tendency on the part of many young men to overlook the possibilities of the newspaper and radio business field for rewarding careers—rewarding not only financially but in many ways."

The Ottaway Newspapers-Radio, Inc., of which Mr. Ottaway is president, publishes The Press-Republican in Plattsburgh, The Star in Oneonta, The Bulletin in Endicott, N. Y., and The Daily Record in Stroudsburg. Radio stations WENE, Endicott; WDOS, Oneonta, and WVPO, Stroudsburg, are included in the organization.

Mr. Ottaway said that the internship program had been worked out in cooperation with Dr. Wesley C. Clark, dean of the School of Journalism at Syracuse University.

Dean Clark praised the Ottaway Internship program highly as a "forward" step and one which he commended to all publishers who are interested in building up their staffs.

The interns will work next summer for The Ottaway Newspapers and Radio Stations from June 14 to Sept. 10, and it is expected that the plan will be continued in future years. A minimum of three interns will be selected, two for newspaper and one for radio.

The entire internship program will be under the supervision of Lyndon R. Boyd, assistant to Mr. Ottaway. Mr. Boyd said that students who successfully complete the internship program may expect to be offered permanent jobs with The Ottaway Newspapers and radio organization after graduation.

The interns will be selected by a board composed of Dean Clark, Mr. Boyd and Professor Philip Ward Burton, chairman of the Advertising Department of Syracuse University.

Brown To Speak At College Today

Gay H. Brown, humorist and inspirational speaker, will address State Teachers College students at 10 a.m. today.

Mr. Brown's subject will be "Wanted—Not Nice But Men."

Most greenhouses where commercial orchids are grown must be kept very warm, but for some species, the houses must be refrigerated.

In the United States there are 1,312,000 broken or disrupted families headed by men and 4,654,000 headed by women.

Ike Signs Bill Cutting Excise Taxes

Travel rates will be cheaper too since a five per cent decline is in effect. And the local telephone bill that used to be $6.90 a month will drop to $6.60, and long distance calls go from the tax rate of 25 per cent to 10.

There is no tax today on admission to movies costing 50 cents or less. Over that amount a drop from 20 to 10 per cent has been approved. The same applies to professional baseball games and other amusements. But you can't play the ponies or dog races and expect to save on the taxes—they're still there.

College athletic events in regular season, subject to 20 per cent tax up until today, now are tax-free. And civic theater amateur performances and tickets to non-profit museums and planetariums also are stricken off the tax collecting list.

If you're going out to "paint the town red" you'd still better pocket some extra cash—the 20 per cent tax is still on liquors.

Here's the excise tax reduction picture in capsule:

20 to 10 Per Cent

Furs.
Jewelry.
Luggage.
Toilet preparations.
Safe deposit boxes.
Cameras, lenses and films.
Admissions, 51 cents or more.
Electric light bulbs and tubes.

25 to 10 Per Cent

Long distance telephone service.
Leased wire teletypewriter or talking circuit special service.

15 to 10 Per Cent

Local telephone service.
Domestic telegraph, cable and radio messages.

Passenger fares on trains, planes and buses.

Sporting goods.

Fountain pens.

10 to 5 Per Cent

Household appliances including refrigerators, stoves, fans, water heaters, flat irons, air heaters.

Electric blankets, grills, toasters, broilers, mixers, juicers, food choppers and grinders, clothes driers, dehumidifiers, dishwashers, floor polishers, waxes, mangles, garbage disposals, power lawn mowers, home freezers and electric door chimes.

Local Farm Help To Get First Call

Harrisburg (AP)—Local labor will be given preference over imported and migratory labor on Pennsylvania farms during harvest season, David M. Walker, Secretary of Labor and Industry, said yesterday.

"Where local labor supply is inadequate, or not suitable, Puerto Ricans and southern migratory workers should be recruited to prevent a loss of crops," Walker said.

Both points were included in a farm labor policy statement by Walker made at a meeting of farm labor representatives of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service.
